Network description: Nätverket önskar sammanföra lärare med olika kompetenser inom det tvärvetenskapliga ämnesområdet hortikultur och studenter på olika trädgårdsprogram i Norden. Målet är nätverksbyggande och erfarenhetsutbyte på olika plan samt kompetenshöjning för alla involverade inom områden som bedöms ha utvecklingspotential. Genom att utnyttja särkompetens som finns på olika håll inom Norden, kan nya idéer väckas, nischer upptäckas som i sin tur inspirerar till nyföretagande och ökad konkurrenskraft för den nordiska trädgårdsodlingen.

Network description: The network "Education for sustainable agriculture in the Baltic Sea region" intends to encourage mobility of students and teachers between agricultural universities in the Baltic Sea region, and to stimulate co-operation between these universities in vocational matters and curriculum planning. The universities co-operating in this network educate students at Bachelor- and Master-levels, and network activities therefore generally aim to integrate applied science with practical applications. The network headline is the development of sustainable agriculture.

Network description: The primary purpose of the present network NORDNATUR is to create a Nordic-Baltic HE platform for sustainable ecosystem management. Despite of ecosystems and climatic issues being cross-bordering, today's management of natural resources mostly keeps to national borders. We aim at a) improving the quality of higher education within this topic; b) building up a cross-bordering understanding of the topic; c) educating future managers and researchers that are aware of and can act on international issues of sustainability. For the study year 2010/2011, we are aiming at deepening and increasing the quality of the recently enlarged network, and at developing joint curricula, intensive courses and master programme with focus on climatic issues.

Network: Nordic Academy of Architecture

Coordinating institution: CHALMERS TEKNISKA HÖGSKOLA Country: SE
Coordinator: Catharina Anna Dyrssen (dyrssen@chalmers.se)

Network description: The purpose is to develop a Joint Nordic Postgraduate Masters Programme in Climate Neutral Architecture and Sustainable Built Environment. The aim is to form an advanced Nordic education designed to confront the issues of climate strains caused by the built environment, with the ambition to develop architectural knowledge on how to

- design and build for much less resources and energy use, smarter spatial solutions, constructions and materials, and in accordance with climate conditions to develop resilient and sustainable architecture;
- take care of existing building stocks by resilient and sustainable conservation and transformation;
- develop and transform cities, regions and urban landscapes that will lead to less climate strains, as indicated above, also addressing sustainable aspects of traffic and built environment as well as social dimensions such as segregation, democracy, safety, health and accessibility to public space.

The Joint Nordic Postgraduate Master's Programme will focus on climate conditions north of the 55th longitude, and it will incorporate the concepts of sustainability and resilience in all parts of the planning and building processes, from the choice and use of building materials and components, through reinforcing and further developing practices of recycling, waste management and low energy use, to incorporating “green city" standards in urban planning and management.
The programme addresses graduated architects, landscape architects, urban planners, engineers, constructors and professionals with a bachelor degree – all with at least 5 years of working experience. The programme may admit masterstudents from all the Nordic and the Baltic countries, as well as students from outside this area.
Mobility is an essential feature of the programme. The master students will attend studio courses at at least four Nordic institutions. A part from the studio courses, the pedagogical approach is based on e-learning, group work via internet (Skype), literature study and project work.
This application has five main objectives:

1. to make a thorough inventory and analysis of competences among the Nordic and Baltic schools of architecture for the indicated master programme;
2. to make a more thorough inventory and analysis of the academic and professional need and expectations for this kind of programme;
3. to map the gap between existing and needed competences;
4. to discuss the gap at a Nordic seminar;
5. on the basis of the analyses, to develop a joint curriculum for a Nordic Postgraduate Master Programme as indicated.

All activities are part of the partner institutions' ECTS course curriculum structure.

The Explorations in Music and Dance / EMD Network was founded by David Yoken, originally as an European Union funded Leonardo da Vinci Vocational Education programme action focused upon the "exchange of expertise". The first action was an "exchange of expertise" study trip to London England in October 2004 partial funded by this Leonardo di Vinci programme and included dance and music artists teachers led by the Department of Dance, Arts Academy, Turku University of Applied Sciences, Turku, Finland; the Kuopio Academy of Music and Dance, Kuopio, Finland ; the Royal College of Music, Stockholm, Sweden; the University College of Dance, Stockholm, Sweden, and the Danish National School of Contemporary Dance, Copenhagen, Denmark. The Nordic team visited, observed and engaged in dialogue with dance and music artist-teachers from the following institutions: The Royal Ballet School, The London Contemporary School for Dance, Laban Centre. 2010 marks the 6th consecutive year the EMD Network has received gracious funding for activities. David Yoken is the principle coordinator and grant writer for the EMD Network's projects. He works closely with Antonella Storti, International Coordinator, Arts Academy, Turku University of Applied Sciences.

Current activities are the continuation of the N+ supported Explorations in Music and Dance / The E.M.D. Network, 38/2008, 1096/2007, 1096/2006, Musicians Training for Dance /M.T.D. Network 2005 – 2006 1096/2005: The University College of Dance/Danshögskolan: coordinator of the MTD Network.

Network: Globaliseringen, Norden og kunstens former

Coordinating institution: AARHUS UNIVERSITET Country: DK
Coordinator: Bodil Marie Stavning Thomsen (norbmst@hum.au.dk)

Network description: Globaliseringen, Norden og kunstens former er et fællesnordisk studieprogram på MA-niveau, som Aarhus Universitet har inviteret Universitetet i Oslo, NTNU i Trondheim, Stockholms Universitet og Karlstad Universitet, samt kunstakademiet i Helsingfors med i udviklingen af. Det er formålet med projektet (og denne ansøgning) at videreføre det arbejde, vi allerede har gjort i feltet med henblik på et undervisnings- og netværkssamarbejde, der relaterer sig til den aktuelle genforhandling af en nordisk identitet i lyset af globaliseringen. Vi har i perioden 17. sept. 2008 - 1. oktober 2009 fået tildelt midler til udvikling af studieprogrammet, og for perioden 15. juni 2009 - 1. oktober 2010 har vi fået midler til mobilitet, netværksaktiviteter og fælles studieprogram. Vi har i løbet af de (knapt) to år samarbejdet om tilrettelæggelsen af det fælles studieprogram og har i netværket arbejdet med den engelsksprogede bog "Globalizing Art. Place, Identity and Transnationalism in Contemporary Nordic Art", der udkommer på Aarhus Universitetsforlag i 2010. På de intensive møder i netværket har vi undersøgt mulighederne for studiemæssig implementering og har udviklet studieprogrammet til et fælles vidensniveau såvel teoretisk som analytisk, så vi (afhængigt af evalueringen) kan etablere studieprogrammet på de enkelte involverede universiteter i forlængelse af det intensive sommerskolekursus, der afholdes på Aarhus Universitet d. 28. juni - 10. juli 2010 (http://www.nordisk.au.dk/summerschools/ttn10). Da vi allerede nu har skullet annoncere undervisningen i 2011 på internettet, har vi igen indleveret beskrivelse af en sommerskole i feltet til Aarhus Universitet, da ingen af de andre involverede institutioner kunne påtage sig dette arbejde. Vi påtænker altså endnu en sommerskole på to uger i juni/ juli 2011, hvilket der også søges mobilitet til. Da feltet er helt nyt, findes der af gode grunde ingen tekster, der teoretisk og analytisk behandler relationen mellem Norden, globaliseringen og kunstens forandrede indhold og former. Bogudgivelsen, der bliver færdigt i indeværende forår, er tænkt som undervisningsmateriale på sommerkurset i år (og - hvis den realiseres - på sommerskolen i 2011). Det intensive samarbejde om udviklingen af studieprogrammet, planlægningen og annonceringen af den intensive sommerskole og redaktionen af den engelsksprogede antologi, har givet os en nødvendig fælles referenceramme i dette nye felt, hvis fokus er den del af samtidskunsten, der eksplicit forsøger at afdække det regionales nye rolle i lyset af globaliseringen. Det interessante er nemlig, at aktualiseringen af, hvad der kan forstås ved begrebet 'Norden', i høj grad er et omdrejningspunkt for den politisk involverede samtidskunst. Det er målet at skabe et tværgående nordisk studium i dette nye, dagsaktuelle felt, hvor kandidater kan få kompetencer i samtidskunstens anvendelse og kombination af flere medier, herunder dens intervention i defineringen af forholdet mellem det regionale og det globale og dens artikulation af national og regional kulturel selvforståelse i en globaliseret verden. Programmet henvender sig til humanistiske kandidater med en BA-grad fra en af de involverede æstetiske fag, og desuden til ph.d.-stipendiater ved alle de nordiske kunstakademier. Kandidaterne får kompetencer i den litterære og visuelle samtidskunsts samfundsmæssige interaktion og tværæstetiske praksis med særlig henblik på, hvordan den nordiske regions kulturer og steder gentænkes og reterritorialiseres i lyset af en globaliseret verden. Arbejdskompetencer bliver i undervisnings-, kuraterings- og publikationsbrancher samt tilgrænsende felter.

Coordinating institution: MÄLARDALENS HÖGSKOLA Country: SE Coordinator: Charlotta Edlund (charlotta.edlund@mdh.se)
Network description: Our NordBiz Network has existed for more than 13 years with successful student and staff exchange, the development of a double degree program (BusinessPlus) and our successful intensive course: Nordic Baltic Perspectives on Marketing. This course is a great opportunity to learn marketing and to get a true Nordic-Baltic business culture understanding. Our main priority is to assure the quality of all our activities within our NordBiz-network. We make sure that the participating universities will support our work. Therefore it is important that our "controllers" – the Deans, at our universities have the possibility to meet and discuss our work. This year we have invited a new partner to join our network ISM University of Management and Economics in Lithuania. This partner can also contribute to the enlargement and new dimensions and input of our network. We also see the possibility of a quality rise by developing a new course in climatic issues: Business Strategies for Sustainable Development. The goals of our NordBiz network are: - to develop and promote cross-cultural and interdisciplinary courses, academic programs and add value to existing education responsive to a changing global environment; - to facilitate co-operation between universities and enterprises and improve the - exchange of information and know-how; - to help create distinct competitive advantages for operators/business and enrich the overall image and vitality of the community; - to promote activities which enable the exchange of experience and information regarding higher education regulations and policies among its members; - to enhance the opportunities for educational staff development through staff mobility; - to assist university policy makers in developing the academic culture of their institutions, and; - to promote activities that will enhance the opportunities for student mobility.

Network description: The most important aim of the EkoTekNord is to promote and develop student and teacher mobility in the Nordic and Baltic countries and at the same time to offer the students extra dimension with interdisciplinary studies, e.g. within business, engineering, logistics, communication and entrepreneurship. Network activities is good way for participating institutions to exchange and disseminate experiences, best practices and innovative results.
This year we plan to launch intensive course MULTICULTURAL UNDERSTANDING IN THE BALTIC SEA REGION – OPPORTUNITIES AND OBSTACLES IN COMMUNICATION and development project INDUSTRY RELATED COLLABORATION IN EKOTEKNORD NETWORK.
The new initiative of EkoTekNord for the coming year is express mobility. Express mobility should be linked to the outcomes of the study programmes and pre-assignments should be carefully planned in order to assure the quality of them. It will serve in making academic cooperation between EkoTekNord partners more intensive and will give new possibilities for it, e.g. the Nordic/Baltic groups of students doing projects in companies.
INDUSTRY RELATED COLLABORATION IN EKOTEKNORD NETWORK
The purpose of the project – to share experiences and best practices between the EkoTekNord partner institutions and beyond in the area of collaboration with industry.
MULTICULTURAL UNDERSTANDING IN THE BALTIC SEA REGION – OPPORTUNITIES AND OBSTACLES IN COMMUNICATION
The purpose of the project is to run a course on Multicultural understanding in the Baltic Sea region with the stress on the issues of climate change and pollution. The main learning focus will be at an intensive week in Aland Island.
The special purpose of the field work will be to:

- Compare theory and practice to construct knowledge
- Apply methods and theories
- Gain experience from real international cooperation in teams involving human relations, scientific and professional communication
- By all this to investigate how climate issues are discussed in media and among young people in the Baltic Sea region.

Network: Nordic and Baltic Business Innovation

Coordinating institution: TAMPEREEN AMMATTIKORKEAKOULU Country: FI
Coordinator: Pirkko Sinikka Varis (pirkko.varis@tamk.fi)

Network description: The Nordic and Baltic Business Innovation network consists of five universities in Finland, Denmark, Norway, Lithuania and Estonia. The network cooperates in the fields of business, leadership and management, entrepreneurship, business innovation, design, media and engineering.
The aim of the network is to develop innovative and practice-oriented methods for learning and teaching of future business managers for the Nordic and Baltic businesses. There is a need for competent managers who have knowledge and skills to operate in the Nordic and Baltic business environment. The network organises staff exchanges of competent teachers and gives the possibility to students to take part in student exchanges and/or in internships and at the same time gather knowledge about Nordic and Baltic market areas and region while staying in other universities of the network or in business companies in the mentioned countries. The aim of the network is to promote Nordic and Baltic cultural understanding and understanding of business environment, businesses and business cultures of this region and to strengthen Nordic-Baltic relations. The aim is also to make students aware of their own linguistic background and to increase understanding for local languages as the basis of thinking and at the same time to remove obstacles to business by using common language in communication. The intensive course Business in the Nordic and Baltic Countries and virtual studies are examples of curriculum development. Business innovation sessions are organised to design new products/services.

The aim is to increase university-company cooperation and to enlarge the cooperation from business company cooperation to cover also cooperation with organisations like the Hub, which are involved in promoting social entrepreneurship. The cooperation started with the assignment to develop a business concept for the social enterprise Hub Tampere that was given by Hermia Ltd. to the intensive course held in September 2009 in Tampere. Earlier assignments given to multidisciplinary and multicultural groups have been given by business companies and they included tasks to develop business ideas and concepts for new products and services. Hub Tampere is opening officially on March 1st 2010. Through the network and Hub cooperation it is possible to find out new working tools and innovative business models for new type of enterprises and for supporting these businesses. Later on it is possible that in the network there will be enterprises set up by the students and these enterprises cooperate through the hubs of other network countries, when the Hubs will be established in these countries. Climate and other environmental issues are the focus of some of Hub Tampere enterprises, as is saving energy in packaging and marketing materials through new innovations for some.
Through these kind of activities students and staff members are able to work with real-life assignments with strict deadlines and to combine forces of the special expertise of all partners. The network disseminates the results of activities by using the web pages http://nabbi-network.ning.com/, via the web pages of the institutions of the network, via the magazines and other publications of the institutions, by using other media of communication and in seminars, conferences and other events.

Network description: The purpose of the project is to host an international intensive week with students and academic staff representing the Nordic and Baltic Countries. The subject of the conference shall be "Marketing in Northern Europe and the Baltic Sea Region". The duration of the conference shall be one week – an intensive week, with participants from University of Southern Denmark, Gotland University/Sweden, HAMK University of Applied Sciences/Finland and Stockholm School of Economics in Riga/Latvia. The conferences will be consisting of presentations given by students, lectures given by academic staff as well as specialists from relevant organizations. To extend the impact of the event, the intensive week shall be accompanied by preparatory and post-processing activities on international level. In addition, since the conference includes students and staff participation, it should foster the cooperation between the participating institutions and increase the exchange periods. During the previous intensive week in Latvia it has been decided that each year the event will be hosted in another host country. The next location of the intensive week in 2010 will be decided in the preparatory meeting, which will take place in March 2010. The above described operation model has been successful in use during the last three year. The activities within this network have considerably increased. There are several aims of the actual conference. First, the aim is to increase the awareness and understanding of the participants with respect to the Nordic and Baltic dimensions of business. Second, the students will be trained in preparing, organizing and participating in an international meeting/conference at a high professional and academic level. In addition, the intention is to broaden the participants' minds about how internationalization affects societies, markets and companies in Northern Europe.

Network: University cooperation with business and services

Coordinating institution: SATAKUNNAN AMMATTIKORKEAKOULU Country: FI
Coordinator: Jari Heiniluoma (jari.heiniluoma@samk.fi)

Network description: In the project, teachers and students will compare entrepreneurship and management methods and include international cooperation in the curriculum of the partner institutions of this network. Besides normal student and teacher exchanges, short exchanges of 1-2 weeks are used in connection to online-cooperation between correspondent courses in management and services studies.
SAMK has developed a model with partner university in Ireland, and this will be used within the Nordplus partners from Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Lithuania, Norway and Sweden. Students spend a week at the other university, for to start a project and form international working groups.

In this model groups (5-6 students in each) will have 2-3 students from two different countries. There are parallel working groups, with students and mentoring teachers from different participating countries.
A challenge is to plan the courses together between teachers, so first teachers will be connected using normal teacher exchanges. Resources are used for this from the ongoing Nordplus project of this network. The student mobility part and the online cooperation have to be included in the curriculum of the courses.
The curriculum and online-cooperation will help to enhance also more traditional long student exchanges after the project. Another objective is to enhance mobility and curriculum cooperation between the "old Nordic" and "new Baltic" member institutions. A partner from Latvia will be recruited to the network during the project year.

Network: Development of Environmental and Ethical Competence in Leadership and Management

Coordinating institution: VILNIAUS UNIVERSITETAS Country: LT
Coordinator: Raminta Pucetaite (raminta.pucetaite@vukhf.lt)

Network description: The overall aim of the project is to develop a curriculum for present and future business leaders and managers. The curriculum must address a factual need for high-quality education programmes on management of environmental and ethical responsibilities of business and, in this way, contribute to raising business professionals' awareness of potential business risks while at the same time developing their competences for responsible leadership as well as skills to design and manage organizational processes which ensure sustainable development of businesses and societies in which they operate.
The objectives of the project are as follows:
1) increase the quality of teaching of environmental and ethical aspects in business and diminish indifference, skepticism and, in some societies, even cynicism towards them, which often results from poor and out of date teaching approaches;
2) highlight the importance of the context in the curricula of education programmes for business leaders and managers;
3) prepare an interdisciplinary case-based course that employs ICT (moodle environment) for learning and covers acute topics related to environmental and ethical competence in business management and leadership, in advanced (Master or a relevant level) course of the partner institutions;
4) prepare a manuscript of the textbook for university and college teachers that contains the developed and in the e-course tried cases, extended teaching notes, insights about difficult points that occurred from teaching on-line, recommendations for further reading and development of the topics, explicitly highlighting the Nordic/Baltic context;
5) expand networking among higher education institutions in the Baltic and Scandinavian countries and obtain synergy from the expertise owned by each partner in business education.

Nettverket består av Høgskolen i Vestfold, Norge, Frøbelseminaret, Danmark, Åbo Akademi, Finland og Luleå Tekniske Universitet i Sverige.
Tre av de samarbeidende institusjoner, Sverige kom med i 2010, har jobbet sammen i nettverket i flere år, og har de siste 3 årene gjennomført et felles nordisk studieprogram på 30 ECTS, og er nå i gang med første runde av studiet "Miljøoppdragelse, språk og estetiske lærerprosesser". Tilbakemeldingene på tidligere programmer har vært meget positive både fra CIMO, SIU og fra Nordisk Ministerråd, og studiet ble kåret til "Best Practice" i 2007. På bakgrunn av suksessen ønsket man å utvikle et nytt felles studieprogram, og det er runde 2 det nå søkes støtte til. Også for 2011 legger man opp til et studium som går over ett semester og består av 30 ECTS, og det skal være med på å styrke det nordiske samarbeidet innenfor pedagogisk arbeid med barn under skolealder.Barndom og oppdragelse knyttet til miljøets betydning i de Nordiske land gjennomsyrer innholdet i studiet.

Communicating insights and knowledge of educational disciplines, history, culture and society in other countries and an increasing understanding of cultural differences and similarities in education.
Student and teacher mobility often makes the participating person reflect on not only on others' culture, theory and practice, but also on one's own culture, theory and practice.
Students and teachers are returning home with new ideas, new knowledge and inspiration that can help strengthen professional networks and generate new training and development across the participating countries.
The students will benefit from the mobility in a sense that it will enrich their total outcome of the Bachelor programmes in Education and Social Studies.

Network: QA in HE - Qaulity Assurance in Higher Education

Coordinating institution: TURUN AMMATTIKORKEAKOULU - ÅBO YRKESHÖGSKOLA
Country: FI
Coordinator: Piia Palomäki (piia.palomaki@turkuamk.fi)

Network description: The target of the project proposal “QA in HE – Quality Assurance in Higher Education” is to promote the quality assurance strategies and methods in higher education institutions by developing innovative models of quality assessment that contribute to the comparability of educational quality in HEIs. The main goal of the project is to develop and implement a self-evaluation model in the participating higher education institutions to support their quality assurance work and continuous curriculum development in the field of engineering science. The project aims at defining the self-evaluation process in HEIs and developing new tools for supporting the process step model of quality assurance work. Based on these new developed methods, the quality of education is monitored and actively improved in HEIs. Furthermore, the project aims at developing cross-evaluation methods for international use.

The project target is to construct a framework of quality assurance that promotes the international comparability of educational quality. The quality assurance models are established, implemented and further developed in the participating degree programmes of the partnering HEIs. The main purpose of this international cross-evaluation model is to provide the HEIs with new methods and tools of international quality assurance work in close co-operation with other HEIs. The cross-evaluation between HEIs promotes both the quality assurance work and the quality of education. Thus, the project aims at creating a circle of constant quality assurance that fosters active development of higher education. In this cyclic model, the quality of education is assessed by using self-evaluation and cross-evaluation methods. Based on the evaluation results, the curriculum development processes are implemented in order to promote educational quality. The curriculum development is implemented based on the CDIO framework, which introduces an innovative model of educational development in the engineering field.
Since the quality assurance in HEIs is closely related to curriculum development, the project initiative aims also at establishing new methods of curriculum development through quality assessment. As one element of the quality assurance process, the partnering HEIs aim at evaluating and further developing the curricula and teaching methods of engineering education, which further promotes the educational quality. The cross-evaluation model, which is established by the partnering HEIs, promotes both self-assessment and peer evaluation of educational quality in the partnering degree programmes. Since the curriculum development is implemented in higher education institutions nowadays by using various strategies and standards, the project also aims at finding standards and principles for evaluating curriculum development processes in HEIs.
The project focus is on engineering education, and thus the participating HEIs and degree programmes represent engineering field. Although the educational challenges nowadays concern higher education in general level, especially engineering education is challenged to develop new methods of quality assurance work in order to produce experts that meet the growing demands of working life. However, the project results can be further developed and adapted also to other educational fields by refining the methods and tools produced during this project.
In Nordic level, the project also aims at strengthening the co-operation of HEIs in quality assurance of education and disseminating the best practices of quality assurance working methods and educational solutions between HEIs. The international cross-evaluation model, by definition, promotes cooperation and comparability of educational quality in Nordic and international level.

Post WW2 and certainly after the changes in Europe after 1989 many of the ideas of learning, socialization and values can be seen as a reaction upon the misuse of pedagogies performed in the name of authoritarian and even dictatorial governments. The first and most important aim of Valid-Kanklès will remain to create a meaningful platform for the students' involvement in the teaching of values and thus creating a socio-cultural consciousness on the importance of citizenship - especially with focus on klimate issues, as end and means in a democratic educational institution may it be a nursery, a school or a reformatory institution. We will plan the form and content for a course in moral education and democratic values inspired from by the UNESCO structure on how one handles permanent social changes. The course will build on the development of personal and collective competences that are democratic, communicative, intercultural and vigorous. The course is to be taken an integrated part of the participants' studies at their own University colleges/Universities.

Coordinating institution: University College Lillebælt Country: DK Coordinator: Birgitte Stougaard (bist@ucl.dk)
Network description: Det overordnede mål for Àlka er at styrke naturfagene i en humanistisk orienteret læreruddannelse. Det sker via udvikling af undervisning og af læreplaner, der tilgodeser en autentisk naturfags-undervisning med vægt på natur- og kulturarv, naturens kredsløb og de menneskeskabte ændringer, bæredygtighed og naturforvaltning og med fokus på livskvalitet og handlekompetence. Dette udviklingsarbejde sker i et netværks-samarbejde mellem naturfagslærere fra alle de nordiske lande, og hvor netværkets partnere repræsenterer forskellige naturfaglige og fagdidaktiske kompetencer. Disse forskellige kompetencer kommer hele netværket til gode via oplæg på de intensive kurser, oplæg på partnerinstitutioner i forbindelse med mobilitet og i kraft af fælles udviklingsarbejde. Netop samarbejdet i nordisk regi byder på helt særlige muligheder, bl.a. omkring et fælles syn på demokrati og velfærd, regionens fælles miljøproblemer og løsningsmodeller samt en bevidst sprogpolitik (de nordiske sprog i forhold til engelsk). Men forskellene i Norden byder desuden på muligheder for helt konkret at se forskellige problemstillinger i forbindelse med miljøproblemer, konsekvenser af klimaændringer og menneskets forvaltning af naturgrundlaget. Nordplus netværket Àlka giver dermed naturfagsundervisere og studerende i de nordiske lande mulighed for at udvikle undervisning i centrale klima- og miljøproblemer set ud fra et både lokalt, regionalt og globalt perspektiv, men med sigte på elevernes livsduelighed nu og i fremtiden.

Network: Barn, natur og hälsa, förskollärarudbilding i Norden

Coordinating institution: University College Lillebælt Country: DK

Network description: Formålet med projektet er at bygge videre på de gode erfaringer vi i netværket har haft omkring temaet: Barn, natur och hälsa - förskolelärerutbilding i Norden. Med udgangspunkt i "det gode liv", vil vi udvide emnekredsen til at omhandle studier i, og arbejde med, æstetiske og kulturelle oplevelses og -læringsformer. Sammenhængen mellem nordisk tradition, sprog, kultur og opdragelse til medborgerskab i et moderne samfund vil vi lade være udgangspunkt for, og indhold i en række intensivkurser.
Vi vil udvikle en fælles, nordisk forståelse for førskolebørns leve- og læringsvilkår, herunder hvilken betydning læringsstile og læringsmiljøer har.
Et vigtig mål er i den sammenhæng at indsamle og anvende den nyeste forskning på området.

Network: Nordex - Nordic engineering exchange

Coordinating institution: YRKESHÖGSKOLAN NOVIA Country: FI
Coordinator: Bengt Englund (bengt.englund@novia.fi)

Network description: The project focuses on climate issues and sustainable energy. It offers a possibility for testing of new innovative energy sources in real life together with the real users from public and/or private sectors. The project may also serve as a curriculum development project by initiating discussions about benchmarking and comparisons and possibly even cooperation with reference to development of curricula and joint or double degrees.
Another purpose of the project is to renew contact with Denmark and Sweden and to enlarge the Nordex network by including new partners from new participating countries such as Lithuania and the other Baltic States. By creating this platform for lecturers and students, they can establish new contacts, learn from team work in a multi lingual, cross cultural, cross discipline environment and cooperate with established industries and businesses both in the private and public sector.

Network description: The purpose of our partnership is to engage our students and teachers in international activities on a broad basis. This is achieved through joint projects in the field of Engineering including Business Information Technology. These projects enable the sharing of know-how across borders and the development of teamwork skills in a Nordic-Baltic environment. In addition, the development of new methods of learning and teaching as well as applying theoretical knowledge in practical, hands-on situations add a value to the process of learning. Apart from the focus on joint projects we also want to provide opportunities for individual mobility between our institutions.

NordSecMob-Master's programme in Security and Mobile Computing is a two-year Master of Science degree Programme (120 ECTS credits). http://nordsecmob.tkk.fi/index.html
During the programme, the students will study at two of the five Nordic partner universities: Aalto University School of Science and Technology (Aalto) in Finland, Technical University of Denmark

(DTU), The Royal Institute of Technology (KTH) in Sweden, The Norwegian University of Science and Technology (NTNU) and the University of Tartu (UT) in Estonia. After completing the two-year programme, successful students will be awarded two officially recognized M.Sc. degrees (double degree). The programme offers students breadth and deep of knowledge in the field of computer science, data security and mobile computing, both in theory and in practice. The programme develops the students' research skills to enable them to take up further studies at PhD level; it also provides experience of international R&D environments, and enables access to major international networks.

Network description: Sustainable Water and Energy Management in Environmental Engineering network will continue its efforts to develop the network activities to serve partner universities in the best way. The new challenge to combat Climate Change issues with every possible way is one of the prime targets of this network. To share mutual knowledge on sustainable technologies for water and waste management would provide a good base for intensive study period as well as produce virtual teaching material for mutual use. In both water and waste aspects the energy issues related to alternative technologies will be promoted and clear targets to widen the environmental knowledge and skills within environmental engineering and management students in partner universities by creating innovative activities through mutual intensive courses and theme days will be continued.

Network description: The purpose of Nordlys is to give those students who do not have a Nordplus network in their own field of studies a possibility to go on exchange to another Nordic country. There is a gap in certain disciplines where students who do not have Nordplus grants available in their own field. Also, although there are some existing Erasmus agreements with certain Nordic Universities, they are restricted and cannot necessarily offer placements to all disciplines. Greatest demand currently is in geography and other geosciences, which is part of environmental sciences. The purpose is to encourage these students to gain and share information about how sustainable development is taught in other Nordic countries and to be able to tackle the challenges that societies with similar environmental have. Another student group that currently apply Nordlys grants to Nordic Universities are Humanities students and Dentistry students, because their own Nordplus networks have stopped getting funding.

Network description: The main purpose of the Geonord-network and its co-operation is two-fold: a) to develop and intensify the links between geographers and universities in the Baltic and Nordic countries, b) to create new skills in research and problem-solving of regional development in the context of Northern peripheries. The main activies of the network contains jointly planned intensive courses and student/teacher exchange mobility. The thematic issue of the course varies year by year, but the basic content always offers new and comparative viewpoints to local and regional development matters in Northern Europe with special emphasis on peripheral areas. In this year 2010 the course will focus on on regional disparities and spatial policies concerning binary thinking as a major obstacle and various settings of dialogues as oppotunity for development. The field research will be conducted in the Baltic borderlands but comparative analysis will be made with some Nordic counterparts. A special attention will be targeted to local development events and initiatives, but they will be analyzed both in the general context of supra-local factors and in the theoretical context of path-dependency, learning region and post-colonialism. The empirical cases will cover the whole variation of activities from resource-based economies (agriculture, mining, forestry, energy industry) to features of experienced economy.

Network: Folkloristik-etnologi

Coordinating institution: ÅBO AKADEMI Country: FI
Coordinator: Lena Marander-Eklund (lmarande@abo.fi)

Network description: Nätverket har som syfte att befrämja de nordiska kontakterna, både på student- och lärarnivå, inom ämnesområdet folkloristik och etnologi. I Sverige förekommer inte ämnet folkloristik som självständigt ämne. Av denna orsak är det viktigt att både lärare och studenter kan ta del av den folkloristiska kännedom som finns i Norge, Finland och Island.Det nordiska samarbetet är i dagens läge ytterst viktigt eftersom ämnet folkloristik gått miste om det nordiska samarbetsorganet Nordiskt nätverk för folkloristik (NNF) och dess föregångare Nordiskt institut för folkdiktning (NIF) båda finansierade av Nordiska ministerrådet.
Målet för verksamheten inom nätverket är att ge studenterna tillgång till kvalitativt högt stående undervisning i de nordiska länderna och insikt i ämnesområden som det egna universitetet inte kan bidra med. Gällande lärarutbytet skulle detta nätverk befrämja redan etablerade forskarkontakter och ge upphov till nya kontakter. Också på ett högskolepedagogiskt plan skulle detta nätverk kunna bidra med nya insikter för lärarna.

Network: Hissa-nätverket

Coordinating institution: ÅBO AKADEMI Country: FI
Coordinator: Nils Erik Villstrand (nvillstr@abo.fi)

Network description: Hissa-nätverket har haft en livlig verksamhet under de senaste åren, både student- och lärarutbyten har skett i alla riktningar och en jämvikt har uppnåtts på bästa tänkbara sätt. Nätverksmöten har hållits fyra gånger tack vare finansiering via nätverksmedel under nätverkets långa existens. På senare tid har nätverket hållit möten utan Nordplus-finansiering, dels vid Háskoli Islands i augusti 2007 i samband med det Nordiska Historikermötet och dels i Köpenhamn i februari 2009 då det var nödvändigt att träffas för att bl.a. utvärdera intensivkursen i Köpenhamn samt planera den kurs som skall hållas våren 2010 i Åbo. Möten är av allra högsta vikt för att nätverksmedlemmarna skall kunna dela med sej av erfarenheter beträffande kurserna samt andra nyheter/reformer/projekt inom historieundervisningen vid de nordiska universiteten.

Våren 2004 hölls nätverkets första intensivkurs, förlagd till Uppsala. Den andra intensivkursen hölls i maj 2006 i Tromsö och den tredje i maj 2008 i Köpenhamn. Kurserna har visat sig bli stor succé för alla medverkande. Väldigt positiv feed-back har getts av de medverkande studenterna. Nästa kurs skall hållas i maj 2010 vid Åbo Akademi. Tyvärr nekades nätverket finansiering till kursen i Åbo. Huvudarrangören, historieämnet vid Åbo Akademi har sökt finansiering på annat håll. Kursen är därmed inte i egentlig mening en Nordplus intensivkurs, men eftersom samtliga nätverksparter deltar i kursen får Nordplus programmet ändå synlighet i marknadsföringen av kursen.
Kurserna ger en ypperlig chans till specialkunnande, förmedlat av lärare specialiserade i de ämnen som behandlas på kurserna. Dessutom anses kurserna vara ett viktigt komplement för de studerande som inte anser sig vara mogna för en hel termins vistelse vid ett annat samarbetsuniversitet. Dessutom maximerar intensivkurserna sammanhållningen studenter och lärare emellan.
Målsättningen med nätverkssamarbetet är att möjliggöra studier och kurser i specialområden som inte är företrädda vid det egna universitetet genom att studenterna får åka på utbyte. Med tanke på det stora utbudet av specialområden får nätverket en bredare karaktär.
Nätverket är företrätt med två universitet i vartdera landet, med undantag av Island. Nätverket står på en stabil grund och målsättningen är att ett jämnt student- och lärarutbyte skall bibehållas. Ömsesidigheten är mycket god och fortsätter på så vis enligt tradition och framtidsprognoser. Nätverket har väl använt medlen från de senaste årens beviljningar. För att kunna fortsätta verksamheten på samma grunder som tidigare, behöver nätverket i fortsättningen mobilitetsstipendier samt finansiering för fortsatta intensivkurser. År 2012 planeras nästa intensivkurs gå av stapeln. Det är av två skäl viktigt att vi kan erbjuda en kurs med jämna mellanrum. Det skapar en förutsägbarhet och därmed medvetenhet om att en sådan kurs kommer att erbjudas vid de olika lärosätena, vilket bidrar till att öka antalet deltagare. Kortkurserna bidrar därtill på ett väsentligt sätt till att höja motivationen till fortsatt samarbete bland medlemmarna i nätverket.
Pga. den uteblivna Nordplus finansieringen av intensivkursen i Åbo 2010 kan inte heller något nätverksmöte hållas. Istället söker nätverket nu om finansiering för ett nätverksmöte för hösten 2010.

Coordinating institution: NORGES MUSIKKHØGSKOLE Country:
Coordinator: Knut Myhre (knut.myhre@nmh.no)

Network description: Formålet med prosjektet er å støtte, inspirere og utdanne "den komponerende musiker" og retter seg først og fremst mot unge musikere som studerer innen fagene jazz/improvisasjon ved de tre respektive høyskolene.
Dagens unge improvisasjonsmusikere er ofte i like høy grad komponister som instrumentalister. Med den felles dyptgående kompetanse som finnes blant lærere på våre tre skoler vil vi, på høyt nivå, videreutvikle undervisningsformer og arbeidsmetoder, stimulere studentene og tilføre våre utdanningsprogram et nytt viktig fokus.
Vi vil gjennom intensivprosjektet utvikle og inspirere til nye veier å arbeide med komposisjon som uttrykksmiddel i et personlig kunstnerisk virke for utøvere innen vårt felt.
Prosjektet inngår i en del av den samarbeidsavtale som de tre institusjonene har inngått. Denne sikter på økt samarbeide innenfor følgende områder:

- Komposisjonsstudier innen jazz/improvisasjon/rytmisk musikk
- Musikkpedagogiske studier
- Forskning og utviklingsarbeide (FOU)
- Mobilitet

Samarbeidet skal på sikt realiseres i form av felles intensivkurser, joint study programmes/courses, koordinert FOU samarbeide/prosjekter og økt mobilitet.

Network: Baltic Philosophy Network (BalPhiN)

Coordinating institution: HELSINGFORS UNIVERSITET - HELSINGIN YLIOPISTO
Country: FI
Coordinator: Olli Loukola (olli.loukola@helsinki.fi)

Network description: This project is a Joint Master's Degree Programme called "(PPhil) Practical Philosophy – Theories of Good Society", which is conducted jointly by the universities participating in the Baltic Philosophy Network (BalPhiN).

The broad theme of the Programme, Practical Philosophy, is mainly concerned with ethics, the study of general moral standards and basic human values, but also applied ethics, particularly business ethics, biomedical ethics, environmental ethics, and professional ethics. Connected with these fields are social and political philosophy as well as philosophy of law, which address such questions as the proper ethical standards for institutions - private as well as governmental - and the foundations and constitutive principles of democracy. The more concrete theme of PPhil, does obviously not attempt to cover all the above fields; instead it concentrates on theories of morality, justice and society, and these thematic focal points of the Programme have been constructed from the areas of expertise of the participating universities.

The organizing body, Baltic Philosophy Network (BalPhiN), consists of three Nordic (Social and Moral Philosophy / Department of Political and Economic Studies of University of Helsinki (as the coordinator), Department of Philosophy of University of Iceland, and Philosophy Unit of Södertörn University College) and five Baltic philosophical institutes (Estonian Institute of Humanities of Tallinn University, Centre for Ethics of University of Tartu, Faculty of Political Science and Diplomacy of Vytautas Magnus University, European Humanities University, Department of Practical Philosophy of University of Latvia). BalPhiN was founded in 2007 in order to establish the cooperation that had started already in the early 1990's. The network aims at the enhancement of student and teacher exchange and joint philosophical instruction and research between the Nordic and Baltic institutes of philosophy. One of the purposes of the network is to make this Joint Master's Degree Programme one of the durable, recurring practices of instruction of Practical Philosophy in these countries.

This project satisfies the general objectives of Nordplus Higher Education 2010, especially in contributing to cooperation between higher education institutions in the participating countries and to the establishment of networks for exchange and dissemination of experiences, best practices and innovative results. In particular it satisfies the priority of the development of Joint Study Programmes, Curriculum Development projects and Quality Assurance work in higher education. The educational structures and arrangements of this project are developed and designed to meet the various needs and requirements of the participating universities, coming from countries with a great variety of educational and academic structures and practices.

Network description: The purpose of the project is to educate masters in a common Nordic masters programme with the title 'The Religious Roots of Europe'. Six Nordic universities in cooperation offer the programme. The Nordic Council of Ministers has financed the development of this programme. The first batch of 24 students was matriculated in September 2009. In September 2010 an estimated 36 further students are admitted in a second batch. This application should make it possible for these students to travel between the six Nordic universities for compact seminars.
The programme is based on a high degree of student and teachers' mobility. With this mobility the programme will further cooperation between institutions of higher education and research in the Nordic countries and it will bring students from these countries together. We have already experienced this during the development phase and during the education of the first batch of students. Last year we applied to NordPlus for support the travelling of students within this programme. And NordPlus partly supported student-mobility for our students with a grant of 12.000 Euro, which could partly cover student travelling between the Nordic countries in the first year September 2009 to October 2010 (Project ID: HE-2009_1-18208). This support was very welcome since students would otherwise have hat to cover all their travelling costs in the Nordic countries themselves. Under such circumstances it might be feared that some of them would have chosen, due to financial reasons, not to take part in the full mobility scheme. With the support from NordPlus on the other hand our experiences so far would indicate that the vast majority of students will take part in the compact seminars in the Nordic countries (so far only two students have missed out on one of these travels each).

Network: Nordplus Pan Nordic and Baltic Archaeology network / Nordplus Nordic and Baltic Mobility and Network Scheme in Archaeology

Coordinating institution: HÖGSKOLAN PÅ GOTLAND Country: SE
Coordinator: Suk-hi Cho (suk-hi.cho@hgo.se)

Network description: Archaeology has seen a dramatic decrease of students at most universities in the Nordic and Baltic countries which needs to be changed. The revival of this Nordplus network is seen as a tool by all partners in the network for the development of the subject. The network is a continuation of the only existing, all Nordic archaeology network, which started in the 90´s and now includes all partner institutions with archaeology in the Baltic States. The network which also includes osteology has during the last ten years solely been engaged in student mobility schemes. Placement possibilities have so far not been a part of the student mobility scheme but will continued to be included in this application, considering the need for archaeology students to enhance their employability by being offered a possibility to work in a private or public institution/enterprise in the field. This would enable new inputs from the sector into curriculum development of benefit for the sector and the entrepreneurial skills of students. Therefore such partners will be invited to the first network meeting. Teacher mobility should therefore also permit the inclusion of teachers from the public/private sphere although no such partners have yet been included in this application. Meanwhile such contacts exist and will be used. The reason for the increased amount of mobility applied for to Sweden is that past experience from mobility flows showed student mobility flows mainly to Sweden. The reason for this might be that such subjects as Osteology does not exist at the same advanced level as in Sweden, and that some programs at Swedish universities offer archaeology courses in English. Gotland University is one of the few HEI:s (Higher Educational Institutions) in the network offering a semester in English at its International Archaeology program launched in the academic year 2007/2008. This will obviously change as the network and planning meeting engaging all participating institutions will start in 2009/2010.

Coordinating institution: HÁSKÓLI ÍSLANDS Country: IS Coordinator: Mikael M. Karlsson (mike@hi.is)

Network description: This is a network principally devoted to student and staff mobility in the field of philosophy. Priority is given to longer-term exchanges: semester-length study abroad for students and teaching exchanges of two to four weeks. Such exchanges help to make effective use of academic resources, to provide students and staff with a broadened perspective and valuable life experience, and conduce to Nordic (and Nordic-Baltic) cooperation and integration. The Network was reconstituted last year to include seventeen Nordic partners and five Baltic partners. The Network has stimulated, and will continue to stimulate, Nordic-Baltic exchanges as a particular priority. Heretofore, the Network has primarily supported student exchanges at the BA level, but we aim now also to support exchanges at the MA level, for which there is growing demand among students. Some partners are developing joint study programs within the framework of the Network.

Network description: Our rationale is to develop deeper understanding of the current priorities of climate change in the Baltic and Nordic countries from the Humanities perspective. Climate change can surve as an "entry point" into understanding more fully the fragility of our life within the created environment. We underline that the seriousness of climate change must be considered in wider context which goes beyond demanding only minor changes in the life of society but call into the question of basic attitudes and values. Therefore the concept of sustainable development is radical concept which includes also theological discourse and art historical and stylistic observations. Our objectives are: 1) to establish and extend network between educational intitutions in Baltic and Nordic countries providing higher education in Humanities and Arts and deeling with ecological issues; 2) by joint forces to promote and develop environmental resposibility through higher education and lifelong learning studies; 3) to promote contact and long term co-operation in higher education; 4) intensify knowledge about global and regional ecological and climate issues and rise the ecological awareness in partner countries; 5) network ECTA intends to participate in the network and project activities (intensive courses, masterclasses, workshops, ehxibitions, symposiums etc), joint curriculm development as well as student and teacher mobility; The planned activities for study year 2010/2011 are: intensive course, artistic workshop / materclass, international art exhibition and theoretical reserch proceedings that will surve finally as common study module and curriculum development as an overall aim of the project in the future.

Network description: Nettverk for studier i katolsk teologi har som intensjon å samordne små miljøer i Norden som der formålet er å utvide interessefeltet og stofftilfanget til å omfatte studier og undervisningstilbud i fagområder som normalt ikke prioriteres ved de fleste teologiske utdanningsinstitusjoner i Norden. Nettverket vil søke å samordne studietilbud innenfor katolsk teologi, og gi felles kurs for studenter fra flere av de nordiske land. I Norden drives de fleste teologiske studier innenfor en luthersk tradisjon. Det betyr ikke nødvendigvis at studiene er konfesjonstilknyttet, men stofftilfang og interessefelt styres av den konteksten kirkene i de nordiske land står i – hvilket er lutherske kirker. I verdenssammenheng er studier innenfor katolsk teologi det mest vanlige ved universiteter. Imidlertid er det en rekke eksempler på samarbeid over konfesjonsgrenser. Deltagerne i dette nettverket ønsker å bidra til at et slikt samarbeid kan få større rom i Norden, og for å få det til er det nødvendig at denne grenen av akademisk teologi får bedrede rammevilkår. Det skjer fremfor alt gjennom samarbeid over landegrensene. Nettverket skal drive felles fagutvikling (både ved enkeltkurs og ved programutvikling), forestå studentutveksling og lærerutveksling, samt gjennomføre felles kurs.

Network description: The Baltic-Nordic Network on Education in Survey Statistics is the education-focused Baltic-Nordic branch of the more extensive Baltic-Nordic-Ukrainian-Belarusian Network on Education and Research in Survey Statistics. The main purpose of the Baltic-Nordic Network on Education in Survey Statistics is to strengthen co-operation between universities, government agencies and statistical associations in the Baltic and Nordic countries in education on survey statistics and related statistical applications. For this purpose, the Network organizes each year in one of the participating countries a conference, workshop or a summer school on survey statistics. This far, we have organized 11 workshops or summer schools in one of the Baltic countries and two conferences (2002 in Sweden and 2007 in Finland), with participation of over 500 students, teachers and practicing statisticians. This year workshop will be organized in Vilnius in August 2010 and it is supported financially by a 2009-2010 Nordplus HE grant. In addition, the Network promotes student and teacher mobility between universities and other institutions of the participating countries. More than 100 month-long exchange visits have been made by university teachers, research students and government statisticians in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania to partner universities in Sweden and Finland. The previous activities of the Network are summarized in the Network website at http://wiki.helsinki.fi/display/BNU/Home.

Network: BIOnord

Coordinating institution: HÁSKÓLI ÍSLANDS Country: IS
Coordinator: Martha Ásdís Hjálmarsdóttir (hjalmars@hi.is)

Network description: The purpose of the network BIOnord is to promote, and provide a forum for, collaboration in the education in biomedical science in the Nordic Countries and international activities of students and teachers. Thus BIOnord is a useful tool in the quality management of the education in the Nordic Countries.
BIOnord was established in 1993 and includes partners from all the Nordic countries and thus influences the education in biomedical science in all the countries. The network is an important source of inspiration for the partners' institutions in the development in the dynamic education in biomedical science where the constant is a change caused by new knowledge. As education on MS level becomes more common in the Nordic countries the collaboration within BIOnord has been extended to cover collaboration on that level as well the BS level. The annual BIOnord meeting is its central point for the development, collaboration and administration of the network. Nordplus and BIOnord priorities are discussed, including economic aspect, mobility and specific projects, and the network's mission and strategy set for the future.
Student mobility is intended to bring international dimension to their education and increase the students' qualifications for the international employment marked. It leads to wider experience and knowledge of diverse solutions in the work within the biomedical science laboratories and the health systems as such. The network issues its own documents for recognition of courses the student is enrolled in at the visiting school and uses ECTS in reporting results.

Teacher mobility within BIOnord is intended to share experience and knowledge in pedagogic aspects as well as in the relevant discipline of biomedical science. This is done by tutoring and collaboration in the development of teaching material and examination methods.
Development of teaching material, both within the exchange system and as specific projects of the network, is of high importance regarding quality development of the education in biomedical science in the Nordic countries. Haematology teachers within BIOnord have developed a portal on its homepage to use for teachers and students in the discipline, and the experience of it is good.
Quality management of jointly developed or shared teaching material resulted in establishment of a framework including quality criteria for such activities at the last annual meeting. The first steps were also taken at that event in development of teaching material in microbiology. The aim is to add other disciplines in the future and continue development of the ones already in use.

Network description: All activities within this project, Talk together (TT), intend to strengthen the academic field of Speech and Language Pathology (SLP) in all participating countries by supporting new programmes and institutions lacking competence in specific areas to promote development, harmonisation and exchange within the SLP-educations in the participating countries.

The SLP-programs varies regarding primary focus of the programmes, length of the educations as well as possibilities of a master and research studies. Also the level of development of the education varies greatly including both completely new programmes as well as old and well established ones. The proposed project is a continuation of the project Move and talk (MAT) and an extension of the NordSpeech network. The network, in the present application, includes 22 partners in 7 Nordic and Baltic countries.

The project will focus on knowledge exchange through the following areas of activities:

- Enlargement of the network, 3 new partners in this application and Iceland as a new country
- Common courses development including curriculum harmonisation
- Initiation of course development of a joint study programme – a master in Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC)
- Student and teacher exchange, both express mobility and longer stays
- Network meetings
- Development of quality assurance of the programmes

Barnmorskeutbildningarna ser olika ut i de nordiska länderna men det finns också likheter de har samma målsättning, grundsyn och gemensamma huvudämnen oavsett vilket land det handlar om. Sedan nätverkets bildande har ett nära samarbete mellan de fyra utbildningsorterna utvecklats. Detta kan ses genom det student och lärarutbyte som ständigt pågår. Vid Nordpluskonferenser och nätverksmöten har lärare inom nätverket kunnat dra upp riktlinjer för nätverkets fortsatta samarbete. Ett konkret exempel på ett sådant samarbete är den ansökan om medel för en intensivkurs som skrevs 2006. Nätverket beviljades medel för intensivkursen ” Förebyggande av perinealskador vid förlossning i Norden”. Kursen genomfördes i Aalborg 2007 och utvärderades med ett gott resultat. Förutom studenter kunde lärare från institutioner och klinik delta vilket gav ytterligare tyngd åt kursen. Medel har också beviljats nätverket för en liknande intensivkurs 2010. Den ska genomföras i Tromsö och planering av denna kurs pågår.

Network description: I partnerskabet indgår Landssygehuset, Thorshavn. Formålet med partnerskabet består overordnet af to dele:

1. At styrke den professionelle kompetence hos fremtidens jordemødre i de nordiske lande. Dette dels gennem studentermobilitet, hvor danske jordemoderstuderende får mulighed for at afvikle en klinisk periode i Thorshavn, Færøerne. Dels gennem mobilitet for ansatte med henblik på at understøtte den faglige udvikling overordnet de tre partnere imellem og specifikt i udkantsområder (her: Færøerne).
2. At styrke rekrutteringen af fremtidige jordemødre til Færøerne. Det er en kendt sag, at Grønland i flere år har haft svært ved at tiltrække uddannede jordemødre. I håbet om at forebygge en lignende udvikling på Færøerne er det vort håb, at studenterudveksling vil motivere til at søge ansættelse på Færøerne som færdiguddannet jordemoder. Dette er allerede sket i mindst tre tilfælde indenfor de seneste år. (FREE mover mobilitet)

Målsætningen er således:

- At gøre FRIGG partnerskabet kendt blandt studerende og undervisere i Aalborg og Esbjerg samt blandt ansatte jordemødre på Færøerne.
- At FRIGG partnerskabet skal have en høj mobilitetsrate blandt studerende og ansatte
- At FRIGG partnerskabet generelt skal medvirke til at styrke den internationale virksomhed de deltagende institutioner imellem og mere specifikt styrke den læringsmæssige og kulturelle udvikling indenfor vort nordiske samarbejde og rigsfællesskab.
- At studentermobilitet i fremtiden kan medvirke til rekruttering af jordemødre til Færøerne.

Sedan nätverkets bildande har ett nära samarbete mellan de fem utbildningsorterna utvecklats speciellt gäller detta student-och lärarmobilitet. Vid nätverksmöten och lärarutbyten har man inom nätverket kunnat dra upp riktlinjer för nätverkets fortsatta utveckling och samarbete. Ett konkret exempel på ett sådant samarbete är de intensivkurser som genomförts under åren. Kurserna har avhandlat ämnen som tystnadsplikt i de nordiska länderna, dokumentation av omvårdnad och kulturella perspektiv på omvårdnad.

Network description: Det huvudsakliga syftet med nätverket är att ge studenterna tillgång till nya influenser och internationell erfarenhet från ett annat nordiskt land. Den geografiska och historiska närheten gör det enkelt att samarbeta om att utbyta studenter. Trots denna gemenskap skiljer det något mellan olika utbildnings- och sjukvårdssytem. Detta är en viktig erfarenhet för studenter, lärare och koordinatorer. En internationell erfarenhet under utbildningen ger fler dimensioner till det kommande arbetet som läkare, vilket höjer kompetensen hos dessa studenter. Nätverket vill främja och utveckla detta genom att koordinera studentutbyten, både på befintliga programkurser, prekliniskt och kliniskt, liksom genomförande av kliniska placeringar på sjukhus. Det nordiska samarbetet syftar till att stärka Norden och östersjöregionen som enhet i den alltmer ökande globaliseringen av utbildning och forskning, vilket även detta nätverk ställer sig bakom. Att bygga nätverk inom Norden är mycket viktigt för kommande yrkesaktiva läkare då de sannolikt kommer att forska/arbeta i en nordisk kontext.

Network description: Nordlys-nätverkets grundidé är ge möjligheter åt studerande att åka på nordiskt studentutbyte även om det egna ämnet inte ingår i något nätverkssamarbete. Nätverket ger också möjligheter åt studerande som önskar avlägga tvärvetenskapliga studier vid ett annat nordiskt lärosäte. Nätverket välkomnades och accepterades helt fullt ut av både personal och studenter från dess start. Detta betydde också att problem med tillgodoräkning av studier avlagda vid ett annat nordiskt universitet direkt från början kunde undvikas. Åbo Akademi har haft studerande som vid ett annat nordiskt lärosäte dessutom har läst ämnen som inte finns företrädda vid Åbo Akademi. Sålunda har ÅA-studerande läst ämnen såsom antropologi, persiska, islamologi, filmvetenskap och journalistik för att nämna några. Dessa ämnen har införts som biämnen i studenternas examen vid Åbo Akademi, förutsatt att studenten har fått ihop så många studiepoäng som krävs för ett första eller andra biämne.

Syftet med Nordlysnätverket är att

- stärka den nordiska dimensionen i undervisningen
- öka kännedom om andra nordiska universitet
- dra nytta av varandras erfarenheter
- ge studenter i Norden ett nordiskt perspektiv i sin utbildning antingen som Nordplus-studenter eller vid hemuniversitetet genom lärarutbyte
- ge större möjligheter för lärare att själv knyta kontakter med kollegor vid de nordiska universiteten
- finna tvärvetenskapliga kontakter
- hitta nya intressanta samarbetspartner utanför de etablerade ämnesnätverken
- bevara och utveckla den nordiska identiteten

Network description: Currently cooperation and networking within HE in Biology, with a focus on ecology and natural resources, are very limited. Although Erasmus programs do promote exchange we feel that within our subjects the regional, North European, perspective have not received enough attention and support. Our primary objective is to establish the first higher education network focusing ecology and nature resources management in Northern Europe.

Network description: The Geography network aims at using each partner's specialization fields for offering interesting study opportunities to its students. In other words, students who wish to focus on certain areas of specialization, which are not as strongly represented at their home institution as at some partner institution, can benefit from the opportunity of Nordplus student mobility within the Geography network. Network activities also consist of development of virtual learning techniques, which enable students' reading, participating and communicating in the mutual, shared virtual platforms of the courses, which will be developed in collaboration between Nordplus partners.

Network description: Nordlys är ett ämnesövergripande öppet nätverk med 36 medverkande nordiska universitet. Nätverket etablerades 1995. Kontaktpersonen för nätverket arbetar vid universitetets centralförvaltning. Varje partneruniversitet lämnar in ansökan om mobilitetsmedel. Nätverket syftar till att främja student- och lärarmobilitet inom Norden. Nordlys vänder sig till studenter och lärare som inte har möjlighet att söka Nordplusstipendier inom etablerade ämnesnätverk och till studenter som vill läsa ett annat ämne än det de studerar vid hemmauniversitetet. Student- och lärarmobiliteten syftar till att

- Öka kännedom om andra nordiska universitet
- Bidra till samarbete mellan institutioner i högre utbildning i norden
- Utväxla och sprida erfarenheter, goda exempel och innovativa resultat
- Ge studenter i Norden ett nordiskt perspektiv i utbildningen
- Ge större möjligheter för lärare att knyta kontakter med kollegor vid andra nordiska lärosäten
- Finna tvärvetenskapliga kontakter
- Hitta nya intressant samarbetspartners utanför etablerade nätverk
- Bevara och utveckla den nordiska identiteten

Lunds universitet har varit medlem i nätverket sedan lång tid. Med denna ansökan vill vi fortsätta och utveckla samarbetet med att implementera nätverkets övergripande mål och stärka det nordiska samarbetet genom ökad mobilitet för både lärare och studenter. Under 2008 och 2009 arbetade vi målmedvetet för att öka intresset för utbyte inom Norden. Vi har också gjort en riktad satsning om möjligheter till praktik i de nordiska länderna. Vi avser fortsätta detta arbete under 2010, bl a med extra satsning på marknadsföring och informationsspridning, nya hemsidor etc.

Network: ABS-Atmosphere-Biosphere Studies

Coordinating institution: HELSINGFORS UNIVERSITET - HELSINGIN YLIOPISTO
Country: FI
Coordinator: Antti Lauri (antti.lauri@helsinki.fi)

Network description: ABS (Atmosphere-Biosphere Studies) is a Nordic Master's Degree Programme in Atmospheric Sciences and Biogeochemical cycles. The aim of the programme is to educate environmental specialists, who are capable for independent and innovative work in the current and future challenges related to global climate change and environmental pollution.
The programme is very multidisciplinary, involving a versatile education on atmospheric sciences covering physical phenomena, atmospheric chemistry, meteorology, and ecosystem studies. Part of the content of the programme is related to the interactions between the ecosystems and the atmosphere. All the education of the programme is given in English. The approximate study period is two years and includes 120 ECTS of studies.
The ABS network consists of ten universities in four Nordic and Baltic countries, which are among the top-rated research units in the world. The programme has many effects in the society, including the deepening of the Nordic-Baltic cooperation in environmental education, the idea of lifelong learning, enhancing student and teacher mobility, and adaptation to the requirements of the Bologna process. The ABS programme is directly linked to two proposed Nordic Centres of Excellence: Impacts of a changing cryosphere - depicting ecosystem-climate feedbacks as affected by changes in permafrost, snow and ice distribution (DEFROST) coordinated by Lund University, and Cryosphere-atmosphere interactions in a changing arctic climate (CRAICC), coordinated by the University of Helsinki. As proposed to NordForsk, new study modules will be included in the ABS programme to cover studies related to the Arctic environment.

Network description: The Consortium deals with Transition Studies, understood as the study of fundamental economic, political, and social changes. In a regionally specific aspect, the study of transition deals also with the European Union development cooperation, as one of the significant influences of transition amongst the post-Communist countries of Eastern Europe. Transition is not a sui generis problem related exclusively to post-Communist countries. Rather, the lessons learned from the post-Communist experiences might be extended to non-Communist countries having experienced fundamental institutional breakdowns. The study of transition related topics has thus both scholarly interest and political relevance. The purpose of the Consortium is to provide and ensure a standing forum for the improvement of teaching and learning within the interdisciplinary field of Transition Studies. The activities of the Consortium include (1) development of common curricula and teaching methodologies, (2) teacher and student express mobility visits facilitating the establishment of enduring cross-cutting contacts among the participating institutions, their faculty, and students, and (3) dissemination of the result both among partners and to a broader audience, including political decision makers.

Vårt övergipande syfte är att arbeta för en hållbar utveckling med hjälp av upplevelsepedagogik.
Vi strävar efter att uppnå vårt syfte genom att arbeta mot tre olika mål. Den första målsättningen är att utveckla undervisningen i upplevelse- och äventyrspedagogik i partnerhögskolorna. Den andra målsättningen är att arbeta för ett aktivt lärar- och studentutbyte mellan de involverade högskolorna. Den tredje målsättningen är kunskapsutväxling mellan högskolorna och olika medborgarorganisationer.

Two successful intensive courses (Cultural Pedagogics and the Good Life in 2004 and Empowerment in 2006) have resulted in closer cooperation and better inter-Nordic understanding. The network did not succeed with the last IP application but we hope to receive funding to plan an IP in the academic year of 2011-2012. Regular contact with the partner institutions generates confidence which is important also in the Norpaed cooperation. In order to involve all parties in the network and its activities, each institution in turn takes responsibility for the coordinatorship. The network was enlarged in 2005, including also the Faroe Islands, a positive partner with new perspectives. The cooperation works very well and the partners meet several times during the year through teacher exchanges and this year also the network meeting. Over the past years the financial support from Nordplus has been considerably reduced at the same time as the activity has increased. Thanks to last year's generous mobility funding from Nordplus the activity has increased considerably this year.

Coordinating institution: HELSINGFORS UNIVERSITET - HELSINGIN YLIOPISTO
Country: FI
Coordinator: Hille Janhonen-Abruquah (hille.janhonen-abruquah@helsinki.fi)

Network description: Objective for co-operation with in the theme “Everyday Practices in Changing Societies” is to provide high quality advanced level courses for the Nordic and Baltic students. The longer term aim of the project is to run an international joint master programme where master’s thesis are supervised and done in international study groups. The Joint Master programme will start in August 2011.

None of the collaborating universities would be able to produce this kind of teaching on their own. The shared expertise is not only economical but highly beneficial regarding the development of study programmes and research in each partner University. At the master level the number of students is rather small so it is almost obligatory to co-operate in order to produce high quality courses. Participating students will benefit greatly as they are able to expanding their networks within the Nordic-Baltic countries and learn scientifically to explore the everyday life with its complexities. They can apply their knowledge and expertise in their future professions in the fields such as education, research, social work and food service management. Number of new partners at this application round shows how attractive the co-operation has been.

Network description: The Network has been ongoing for more than a decade. Last year the network received money to be able to reconstruct the network. During this year we have been working with the reconstruction. This has included a renewal and enlargement of network inclusion of new partners Iceland and Lithuania. We have also being able to have network meetings, student and teacher mobility. The possibility to have network meetings has been very valuable in order to develop this Network. We have also discussed earlier experiences concerning courses and mobility in the network.
Taking these experiences into consideration as well as experiences from students and teachers, the aim for this new application is to develop different forms of express mobility for students and short field visits and courses on bachelors' and masters level for students. Further to create a week of expertise training for teachers. The purpose with this project is to have;
* Internships with needed academic tuition, min 3 months
* Short internships (2 weeks) with the goal to make field visits, gather empirical material for degree reports and to join short courses.
* Expertise trainings for teachers in order to gain knowledge and best practises from the neighbouring countries as well as a way of finding guest lectures in certain topics for the partners as well as potential research cooperation
* Development of the network
* To include the other Baltic countries as well as social work in Nuuk, Greenland.
To be able to fulfil all these activities we will need to arrange three times a meeting face to face (Iceland and Gothenburg) as well as at least twice big scale video conferences with the whole network

Network description: Library and information science (LIS) is a narrow discipline in the Nordic and Baltic countries, with few and small milieus, but still internationally well known for its academic contributions to the field. Being relatively few, and covering a wide range of topics, it is vital to draw upon each others experience. The main purpose of the network is to be an arena for sharing knowledge in the fields of education and research within LIS. By cooperating and working together towards a common goal and increasing cooperation between the Nordic/Baltic countries, the network believes that positive results will be seen. Through this network we can further develop high quality education and research within LIS. We believe that being part of this network will strengthen the field in the Nordic/Baltic setting and also facilitate the standing in education and research on a global scale.

Network: Global Journalism Network

Coordinating institution: ÖREBRO UNIVERSITET Country: SE
Coordinator: Annika Gardhorn (annika.gardhorn@oru.se)

Network description: The purpose of the project is to advance global journalism and global journalism education as a practice, as well as the understanding of global journalism within the field and in society at large. This is during the program period 2010-2012 – and further on - done through an increased integration and elaboration of the already existing expertise on climate change and the media within the partner group. Climate change is an inherently global issue and is thus pedagogically well suited as a running theme in a global journalism program. This universal aspect does however not downplay discussions about world inequality, differences in environment, political systems and media systems, - quite the contrary. The whole complexity of the global can be included in discourses on climate change; discourses that we most often meet in the media.

The purpose can be broken down into two operationalized parts:
1) The network: long-term qualitative development of the international master program Global Journalism, specifically through increased integration of climate change in the courses and planning of further development of the climate change and environment theme, moreover joint efforts to keep up with and problematize technological development in relation to journalism, underway evaluation of program and network activities, and reinforcement of possibilities to disseminate our experiences of global journalism education also outside the Nordic countries.
2) Mobility: enable students and teachers to travel between Sweden, Finland and Norway to take part in courses and meetings, and thereby also enhance cross-national Nordic experiences.

Network: Nordic Master School in Innovative Information and Communication Technologies (NMS iICT)

Coordinating institution: ÅBO AKADEMI Country: FI
Coordinator: Tomi Mäntylä (bgt@it.utu.fi)

Network description: Nordic Master School in Innovative ICT (NMS in iICT) is based on the extension of the Nordic Master Program on Innovative ICT, which was one of the five granted Nordic Master Programs by Nordic Council of Ministers. The Nordic Master Program on Innovative ICT (NMP) was a TUCS coordinated pilot project for 2007-2008. The NMP pilot project was based on cooperation and further development of existing international ICT master programs (120 ECTS) at five universities: TUCS (ÅAU, UTU, TSE), KTH and DTU.
The NMS iICT is a virtual umbrella organization that covers all ICT Master level education in the partner universities. As the pool of eligible students in the NMP was around 900 students participating to international educational programs in partner universities, and this NMS iICT programme doubles the participating number of students building one of the largest educational initiative in the world with ICT and innovation focus. While the purpose of the NMP was to attract more top overseas students to the Nordic Universities with excellent specialization possibilities and innovation studies, the NMS iICT aims further to network the Nordic-Baltic universities more efficiently in order to strengthen the buildup of the Nordic innovation powerhouse concept and awareness and increase the quality, attractiveness and competence of the ICT education within participating universities for the local students.

The specific aims of this NMS iICT Nordplus project is

* Promote excellence in education and cultural integration through integrating national ICT educational programs to international programs, enhancing mobility targeting towards concrete individual study outcomes of participating students, and contributing and promoting Nordic Innovation Powerhouse concepts center around Baltic Sea with a clear Baltic-Nordic identity and global visibility

* Promoting a new phase of university networking by introducing virtual school concept; NMS iICT, which is empowering new innovation and quality measures in our master educational system through actively disseminating best practices, and through creating new innovative concepts and operational models. NMS iICT works as empowering platform for strategic and far reaching university and faculty cooperation in the ICT sector.

* Renewal and enlargement of the Nordic Master Program on Innovative ICT network, development new joint study programs (like innovation and entrepreneurship in ICT joint modules) and coordinating and developing focus and interaction between existing study programs, and developing new joint program curriculum (e.g. towards Erasmus Mundus).

* Development of sustainable and long-term strategic partnership between participating universities and faculties, which can extended beyond NordPlus e.g. towards next generation Marie Curie EU programs, EU outreach programs towards developing economies, and towards Knowledge and Innovation Community educational content in the coming European Institute of Technology. NMS iICT will provide a virtual school platform for various outreach activities resulting to extensive and long term cooperation.

* To expand NMP platform, the virtual school structure, with new Baltic-Nordic partners who are committed to share the same vision and are committed to act openly in a new networked structure. The natural way for this is the new initiatives to be taken within NMS iICT as mentioned in the paragraph above.

Nätverket bildades år 1995 av en grupp Nordplus kontaktpersoner som arbetade på centrala förvaltningarna vid universiteten. Syftet var och är att främja den nordiska student- och lärarmobiliteten samt förbättra kommunikationen mellan de nordiska universiteten.
NORDLYS vänder sig främst till studenter som inte kan söka NORDPLUS-stipendier inom etablerade institutionsnätverk eller som vill läsa ett annat ämne än det man läser vid hemuniversitetet (tvärvetenskapliga studier), och stöder främst de mindre internationaliserade ämnesområden. Nätverket arbetar också för att öka studentutbytet till universitet som idag endast utväxlar ett fåtal studenter.
För att ytterligare stärka det nordiska samarbetet ger NORDLYS också en möjlighet för lärare att söka stipendier för mobilitet inom nätverket. Det nordiska samarbetet stärks genom lärarutbyte. Det goda samarbetet med samtliga universitet i Norden ger våra lärare fantastiska möjligheter att genomföra så kallade lärarbesök med undervisning för att skapa och hitta nya samarbetspartner utanför de etablerade ämnesnätverken. Lärarmobiliteten inom NORDLYS kan mycket väl ha en katalysatorverkan i att skapa nya ämnesnätverk och sätta igång nya nordiska projekt.

Network description: Nettverket har siden 1995 arbeidet for å fremme studentmobilitet i Norden på tvers av fagmiljøer og grenser, samt styrke samarbeidet mellom universitetene. I 2005 ble også lærermobilitet en del av aktiviteten i nettverket. Nye partnere i NORDLYS kan kun tas opp på årsmøte etter forslag fra det respektive lands delegasjon. Høgskolen i Stavanger ble godkjent og etablert som Universitetet i Stavanger den 1. januar 2005. Vi ble således foreslått og vedtatt som medlem av NORDLYS-nettverket under årsmøtet på Færøyene den 10. juni 2005.

Network description: Det övergripande syftet med Nordplus Conservation Network, som startade under 1990-talets början, är att stärka kulturvårdens ställning i Norden med Baltikum, det ryska närområdet och därigenom i Europa. Nätverket består av kulturvårdsutbildningar och institutioner inom Norden. Kulturvård, som inom sig rymmer konservering av föremål och dokument, preventiv konservering samt bebyggelse/byggnadsvård är ett litet men brett tvärvetenskapligt ämnesområde med viktig samverkan inom de nordiska länderna
